Joliet, Illinois

FOREWORD

When little things constantly remind us, perhaps it is of no great concern that we occasionally forget to take for granted the heritage of our educational system.

The little things at Joliet Junior College constantly remind us that the concept of a community junior college not only exceeds the guarantee of public education, but promises to fulfill its ideals.

LIBERAL ARTS

Mr. Simpson and John Hendele discuss his schedule and plans for the future.

Reading and research are the words familiar to the Liberal Arts student. Much of his time is spent here in the library completing outside assignments or doing extra reading.

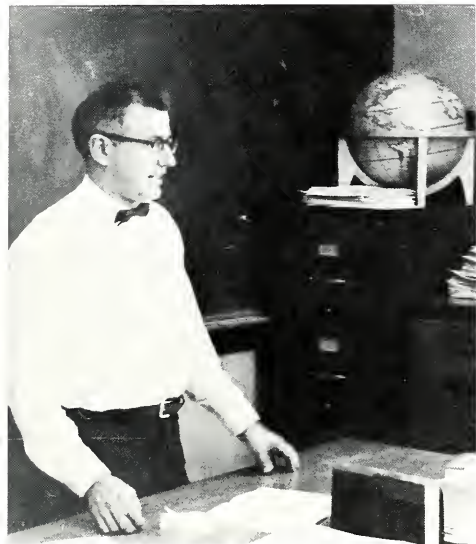

"Nein, nein, mein Herr. Wir sprechen nur Deutsch in diese Klasse!" Mr. Walters conducts conversational practice with his German class.

AND SCIENCES

Mr. Thompson, one of the Liberal Arts advisers, lectures in U. S. history.

Shirley Leuthner and Bob Cory are hard at work (?) in their Smoker 105 class.

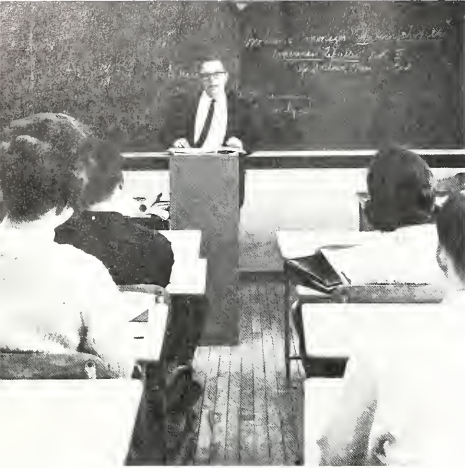

Garth Thompson is either practicing Yoga, facing a firing squad, or posing for a fellow photographer. (But he's really found the answer to an overload of homework.)

"Sh! We have to find out what is happening on 'Day in Court.'"

LIBERAL ARTS

"Contrary to popular opinion," says Mr. Thornton, "Columbus discovered America."

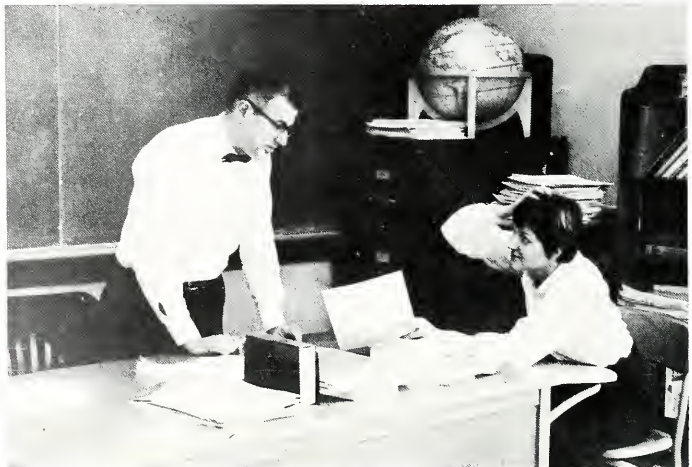

Mrs. Vera Smith and Joan Ritter discuss possible electives.

"My grades weren't that bad, were they?" Lydia Joyce and Mr. Williams discuss her program.

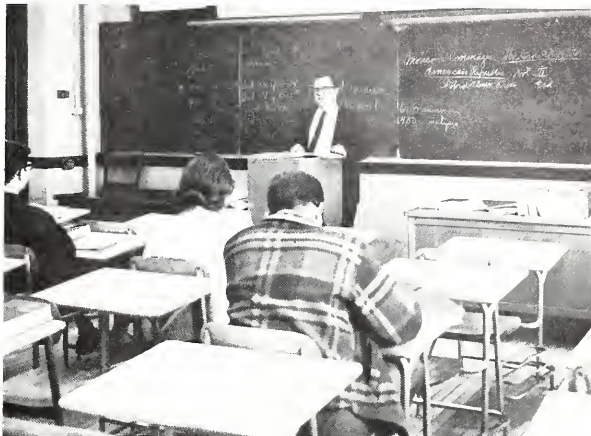

"I can't understand how I got three classes scheduled for 3-4," Mr. Thompson and Sue Michaels unravel a scheduling problem.

AND SCIENCES

"Now remember. There's nothing to be worried about," Mr. McCarter to class.

"I realize that this is a blue Monday, but . . ." Mr. Thornton to students.

"Weeel, let's play with this problem for a while," Mr. Williams says to his calculus class.

Bert Erickson, Joe Marconi, and Tom Hankinson compare notes between classes.

Mrs. Vera Smith listens to an assignment report.

MEDICAL SCIENCES

The medical sciences curriculum is designed to provide students entering any phase of medicine with a solid foundation of basic courses. It also meets the needs of those in other curricula who want to broaden their knowledge of human and animal anatomy.

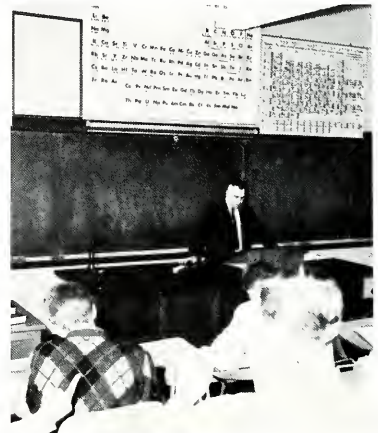

"Now how did all those little fellows get in there?" asks Mr. Sakal.

Mr. Puddicombe, adviser for the medical sciences curriculum, teaches a human anatomy and physiology class.

Mr. Schoenknecht lectures to a class on human diseases.

"For tomorrow, class, memorize the valence chart of the elements," says Mr. Anderson.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

The purpose of the Biological Science Department is to make the students more aware of the natural world around them and their relation to it. In the well-equipped laboratories, students learn the significance of the latest discoveries as well as the basic facts about the animal and plant kingdom.

Mr. Sakal, the adviser for the Biological Sciences, catches up on his reading.

Stuffed zoological specimens decorate the corridors about the laboratory.

Mr. Hughes conducts a botany lecture.

Four instructors in the department are, left to right, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Wagner, Mr. Nelsen, and Mr. Sakal.

Mr. Kuster, department chairman, displays grain to Bob Leonhardt, Tom Geistler, Roberta Brossman and Jim Rademacher.

Paul Kapellas, Veryl Lichtenwalter, and Dale Meyer seem to be getting practical experience from one of agriculture's most well-known instruments.

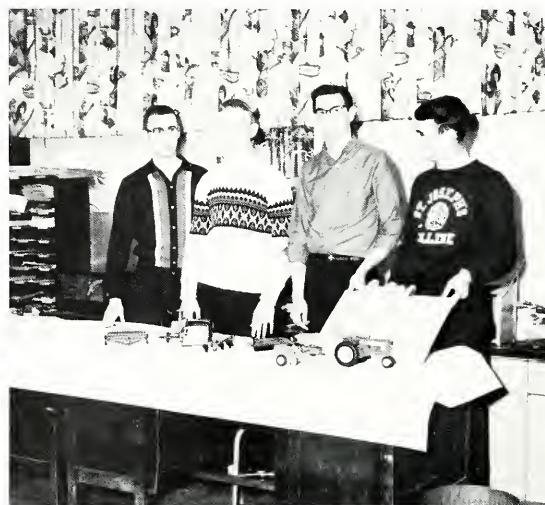

AGRICULTURE

Farming today is more than plowing a straight row and planting seeds. It is a highly developed technical field involving many hours of classroom study and experimentation. The agricultural courses at JJC familiarize students in the latest methods of the industry and theories of scientific farming.

Agriculture students Bob Rainberg, Ron Flatness, Ray Sangmeister, and Howard Heatherwick find the many wall charts interesting.

Looking over their study projects are Ron Heisner, Chuck Gura, Henry Meader, and Don Fear.

"Maybe you can do something about all the commercials?" Chris Blaser works on a T.V. set.

TECHNICAL TRAINING

Students in technical careers are trained to build and repair in the increasingly complex machines found in the industrial world today.

The adviser for the technical curriculum is Mr. Steve Lenich.

"This, fellows, is the way the slide rule works." Mr. Lenich helps Robert Olszta and Richard Armstrong with their slide rule problems.

GENERAL

The goal of preparing students for either jobs or further education determines the structure of the general curriculum. It is broad enough to give the student a solid background in liberal arts and yet allow him to explore various vocational areas.

Mr. William Chase and Pat Johnston discuss Pat's schedule for the semester.

Mr. Paul Johnson and William Tallman plan a semester curriculum outline.

Mr. Paul Johnson and Mr. William Chase, advisers for the general curriculum, discuss a program problem.

CURRICULUM

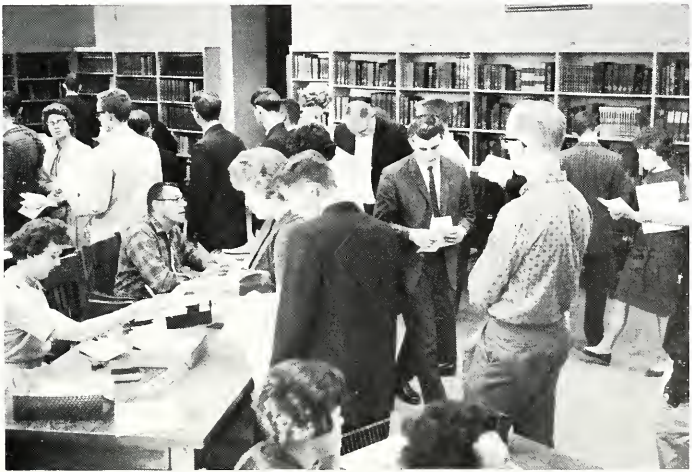

Tessie Heubach and Pat White plan their next semester's schedule.

"Oh Joy! Just what I was looking for, Essays on Dramatic Method in Shakespeare." "Ugh!" says Karen Abrams.

"This is going to be fun!" says Leroy Hutchinson to Tom Edson "or, so I keep telling myself."

This isn't musical chairs. It's registration day.

ENGINEERING

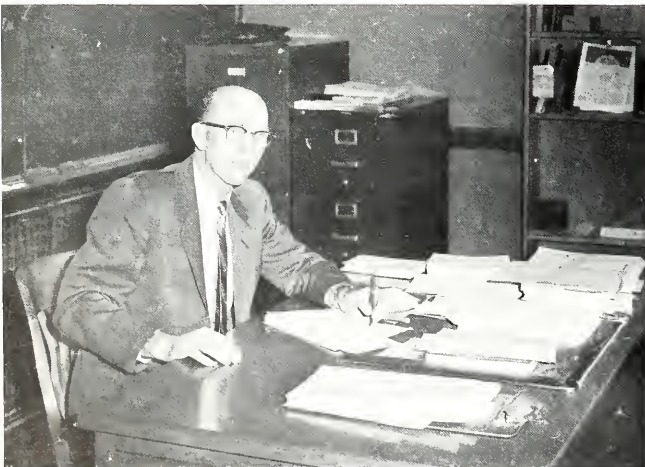

Henry Burla and Don Prince experiment with the latest techniques in engineering.

Mr. Lenich explains a detail of technical drawing to Joe Baudek.

In the rapidly expanding and varied fields of engineering, a firm grasp of basic principles is necessary. Providing this foundation that enables a student to enter any segment of the field is the goal of the Engineering Curriculum.

Mr. Donald Esworthy is the adviser for the Engineering Curriculum.

At the annual banquet of the Joliet Chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers, Rudy Yurkovich was presented the award as the outstanding engineering student at J.J.C.

Physics is an asset to the electronics student. Here Mr. Tyrrel lectures in a technical physics class before the class views a film.

ELECTRONICS

Electronics is another rapidly growing and complex field. The aim of the courses is to prepare students either for jobs or further study in the field.

Mr. Green explains the mechanics of an oscilloscope to Tim Mann.

Mr. Donald Green is the adviser for the Electronics Curriculum.

BUSINESS

"Question?" asks Mr. Corradetti in the course of his lecture.

Many graduates of JJC find careers in the business world. To help prepare them for these jobs, the college offers an extensive business curriculum. There are practical, as well as theoretical, courses to meet the needs of students seeking jobs right after graduation and those working for advanced degrees.

Lynn Spencer demonstrates her speed in adding (with an adding machine).

HOME ECONOMICS

A poet once said, "It takes a heap of livin' to make a house a home." It also takes a lot of work and special skill. The Home Economics department provides this knowledge through courses in sewing, child development, and family living.

Miss Smith and Jan Hill check a recipe for making a "super" dessert.

"Cheer up, Jan; it's only the fourth time you've done that seam." Janet Vandermark is doing homework for her clothing construction class.

"Not bad, considering I put a cake in the oven," replies Cheryl Eaton hungrily.

Reenie Radakovich discusses her curriculum choices and transfer values with Miss Georgina Smith, adviser.

FINE ARTS

Art and music are necessary parts of the practical world. With this in mind, the Fine Arts Department awakens students' appreciation of the importance of aesthetics in today's world, and prepares them to enter artistic and musical vocations.

Mrs. Louise Longman, adviser for the Fine Arts Curriculum, assists Cheryl Eaton.

Dr. Dellinger checks class attendance.

Randy Thomas of the Swing Band swings along.

Beginning students try their hand at sculpture.

EDUCATION

Mrs. Grace Brewer conducts a lecture in education.

The education courses at JJC provide fundamentals for students planning to enter the teaching profession. These courses are planned to correspond with the human development and learning block course. This block course consists of classes in child development, adolescent psychology, and educational psychology.

"Now, kiddies, let's have a little more attention here." The "play school" gives students a chance to develop their skills in dealing with young children.

Tessie Heubach gives a report on a leader in education.

We don't remember John Dewey as that funny! Students relax over a joke in education class.

LIBRARY

Mr. George Fox, junior college librarian, helps a student make use of the library facilities.

The library is all things to all people—a place to study, read the latest magazines, or maybe just sleep.

The card catalog is an invaluable tool for students.

Microfilm machines make the work of students doing research much easier.

GRADUATION

What is a diploma? It's a piece of paper. It's a reward for two years of work—the sum total of sixty-six semester hours of credit. It's a reminder of the good times and the hardships—all which form the college experience. It is a symbol—a symbol of a goal attained, an education completed. Also it can be a marker to be followed by similar ones. And yet it can be the sign of a beginning of a different way of life that will be altered by what was learned while attaining the diploma.

Dr. Suren Seron, president of the board of education, presents a diploma to Carol Sue Burnham as William Ciluffo waits.

Winners of the Adam Awards for the highest grades in their respective classes were Donna Maske, sophomore; Susan Costa and Keith Stenzel, freshmen; and Vincent Amos, sophomore.

Jan Johnson serves as the student speaker at the graduation exercises.

Dr. Robert G. Bone, main speaker, addresses the assemblage.

QUEEN MARY ANN REIGNS OVER HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Queen Mary Ann Ross was crowned the 1963 Joliet Junior College Homecoming Queen by Miss Susie Manner, the 1962 Queen, at the "Homenanny" October 18, 1963. Mary Ann was sponsored by the Lettermen's Club. Her Highness reigned over the homecoming festivities including the "Homenanny," the parade and game, and the Homecoming Dance, "Cosmic Capers."

The JJC "Wolf" is happily surrounded by lovely girls.

None wear crowns, but all are true queens. The JJC cheerleaders give their all to keep spirits high and cheer the team on to victory. Left to right are (row 1) Dorie Goebel, Mary Cresto, Judy Schempf, (row 2) Pat Johnston, Ann Grinton, and Sue Grimpe.

BRANDYWINE SINGERS

CAPTIVATE "HOMENANNY" AUDIENCE

Mr. Zaida gives a "short oratory" introducing the Brandywine Singers at the get-acquainted session in the JJC cafeteria.

Students were invited to meet the Brandywine Singers personally over coffee and cookies.

The Brandywine Singers (left to right—Hal Brown, Rick Shaw, Dave Craig, Fred Corbett, and Ron Shaw) entertain with folk songs. The audience was invited to "sing along."

The Brandywine Singers, a popular folk-singing group, made a big hit with the "Homenanny" audience. The Homecoming Hootenanny served as a prelude to the Homecoming activities sponsored by the Student Council. Rick Shaw, Ron Shaw, Dave Craig, Fred Corbett, and Hal Brown captivated the audience with their musical talents, vocal abilities, and very definite touch of humor.

Hal Brown, the Brandywine Singers' "vile bass player" was a highlight of the concert. He is shown here playing his bass vile. He did, however, leave it long enough to assume the role of "Prince Charming" and congratulate Queen Mary Ann with a kiss.

FLOATS REFLECT "OUTER-SPACE"

Much hard work and thought goes into the building of a float. Prompted by the competition for honors, members of each club spend many hours prior to homecoming stuffing napkins into floats during the wee hours of the night.

LEADERS ARE MADE

Discussion group at The Leadership Conference are (top row, left to right) Frank Lionberger, Karen Gara, Ralph Shroba, Jim Lennert, Shirley Leuthner, and Duane Andreasen; (Bottom row, left to right) Larry Buldak, Terry Ziesmer, and Don Day.

"Leaders are made, not born" was the topic of discussion by Dr. Kinney at the Leadership Conference.

The only problem here is deciding what to eat first.

Some JJC students participated in a Leadership Conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. The students attending were separated into several groups and given a problem to solve. They were instructed on how to conduct a meeting, discuss a problem within a group, and come up with a solution. These groups then discussed their problem with the other groups. Dr. Kinney gave a talk on the topic, "Leaders are made, not born."

Judy Williams puts plans for the evening on the board. Tom Hankinson and Don Dixon look on.

Guests enjoying the dance are Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson.

Ready to run with the funds—to the safe—are Mr. W. F. Zaida and Angela Lukancic.

A Roman Holiday was the mood for the Fall Formal, 1963. Typical Roman decor was maintained throughout the dance to carry out the Roman Holiday theme. The Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra provided the music to add to the success of the dance.

JJC BRINGS IN NEW YEAR—'64

The strains of "Auld Lang Syne" fill the gym as played by the Bill Carnegie Band, accompanied by a shower of balloons and confetti. The annual New Year's Eve dance was a complete success, and a fine tribute to a good year for JJC, 1963. With the already forgotten resolutions and the din of noise makers, the new year, 1964, was ushered in. Though the old year was truly one of the best, the outlook for '64 is even better.

Bob Bernickus plants a "happy new year's kiss" on Lu Lisdero, while Lynn Olsen and Jim Madison toast the new year.

Larry Kachel adds to the general chaos and confusion at midnight.

At midnight, noise makers blared as confetti and colored balloons fell from the ceiling.

Gay paper hats and noise makers were distributed just before midnight; then the count-down began.

"WE BELIEVE IN SANTA CLAUS"

SIGNED—JOLIET JUNIOR COLLEGE

Maryann Taylor and Larry Kachel anxiously await the arrival of that jolly old man, Santa Claus!

Visions of sugar plums dance in their wee little heads as these JJC students relax at the Christmas Party.

With the jingle of bells, the clatter of reindeer hooves, and a hearty "Ho, ho, ho," Santa finally arrives.

"Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

GYMBORIE RIDS STUDENTS OF "TENSIONS"

"The daring young men on the flying trapeze" are (top) Dave Holmes, and (bottom) Pat O'Connor.

The combined gyms set the stage for mayhem and chaos and fun which make up the Gymborie. It took place February 11, 1964 from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. All gym equipment was kept in constant use all evening by both "gals" and "guys" alike. Many "hidden talents" were discovered during the course of the evening, such as being able to jump on the trampoline and hang upside down on the trapeze.

It is evident she's been practicing for quite some time.

Looks at the gym from a topsie-turvie position. Wonder if he had practice bouncing on the bed as a youngster?

The volley ball courts were put to good use throughout the course of the evening.

Sue Watson springs gracefully high into the air on the trampoline.

Looks like the SMS came along: Judy Nuetzmann, Charles Marshall, and Judy Harmening.

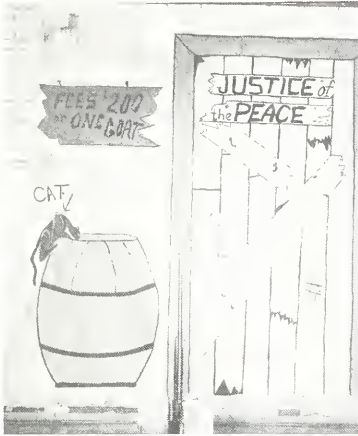

Bend your knees and keep your skis pointed straight ahead.

TRIP

SADIE HAWKINS DAY AND TWIRP SEASON

The annual Sadie Hawkins events prove that no fellow at JJC can escape feminine whims. During twirp season the girls take advantage of the turn about situation by asking boys out. There is some consolation for the boy in that the girl treats. Hurray for twirp season on both sides.

The justice of the peace plays a very important part in the annual Sadie Hawkins events. This is Marryin' Sam's hangout.

Don Dixon boasts to Judy Nuetzmann, "No gal is going to catch him in the Sadie Hawkins day race."

"You're breakin' my arms, Joe."

"Stealing' my laundry again! I'll show you."

Circle to your right, swing your partner, and promenade.

"You got 'im, don't let 'im go!"

AFFORD GIRLS OPPORTUNITIES UNLIMITED

Kathy Faulkner, Larry Buldak, Judy Williams, Ken Carlson really seem to have gotten into the lively spirit of the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

"Now where did my partner go? She was here just before he said alemaine left."

D'AMICOS 214 BLOOMS WITH BOUTONNIERES

The Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra provided the mood music for the J.J.C. Spring Formal of 1963. D'Amicos 214 was graced with an exceptional turn out in comparison to previous years. The excitement of a Spring Formal Queen was tripled by a three-way tie, which resulted in a triple coronation. Through time and effort of many, the Spring Formal was a huge success.

AND CORSAGES FOR 1963 SPRING FORMAL

Enjoying the festivities of the evening were special guests, from left to right, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Haines.

"Let's twist again like we did last spring!"

A perfect end to a perfect evening

EDITOR

Dr. William C. French

Superintendent of Joliet Township High School and Junior College.

SEAL OF APPROVAL

The Board of Education possesses the seal of approval and represents the local community's interest in Joliet Junior College. The seven members, elected from the school district, see to it that tax money is wisely spent to make JJC the kind of school the community wants.

The members are concerned with the school image. They determine policy and formulate a statement of JJC's educational objectives. These are the possessors of the seal of approval on disciplinary measures and the spokesmen of the school in all areas concerned. The board, along with the administration, are continually planning for the expansion of both the junior college's physical plant and its curriculum for the betterment of the community now and in the future.

Administrators of the "Seal of Approval." Seated left to right, clockwise, around the table, are Dr. Suren Seron, Mrs. Verna Carey, Dr. H. Chas. Cohenour, Mr. Frederick Fisher, Dr. William C. French, Dr. Robert Geist, Mr. Norman Keck, Dr. William DeWitt, and Mr. W. Howard Lloyd.

Mr. John H. French

Assistant Superintendent of Joliet Township High School and Junior College.

"THE MEN AT THE TOP"

The "men at the top," the administration, have a far more difficult job to do than to warm soft chairs in offices. They are responsible for co-ordination of all the activities of the JJC community. Only part of their job is the maintenance of academic excellence, provision of supplies, space, faculty, clerical and maintenance personnel.

The administration, in addition, must look to the future. With the opening of two new high schools, more space will be available for JJC. This not only opens the door to more classroom and laboratory space but also to the expansion of the library, cafeteria, and smoker as well. This expansion requires continuous and careful planning in order to make the best possible use of the new resources. "Planning for growth" summarizes a great part, but only a part, of the job of the "men at the top."

"Really, I'm not selling anything! I live here!"

After years of faithful service, Miss Hudzietz leaves her many Joliet friends to make her home in Texas to live a life of leisure.

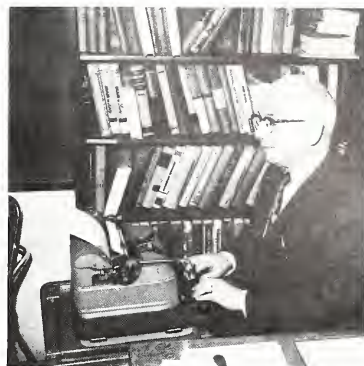

... GOOD LUCK

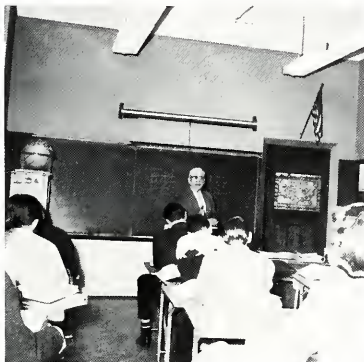

7:00 a.m. "Are you sure this is orange juice?" asks Mr. Evans.

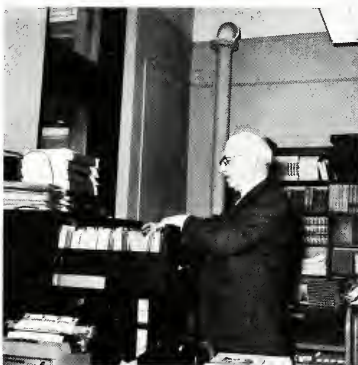

7:45 a.m. "I found our paper. The news-boy can pitch a no-hitter, but he can never find our porch."

8:15 a.m. "Let's see. What can I put on today's quiz. Something the students didn't read."

10:10 a.m. "I'd like to repeat that Ontario isn't a river; it's part of the Great Lakes."

12:12 p.m. "Oh, where is it?"

1:20 p.m. "That was a delicious lunch! What was the mixture?" Mr. Evans to Mr. Leinweber.

2:25 p.m. "I'm sure I can help you."

5:00 p.m. Home after a long day. "What's for dinner?"

After years of cheerful service Mr. Evans will be able to relax and to finish his travels around the world.

The players of Joliet Junior College succeeded in compiling an impressive season. The JJC Wolves placed five players on the first team of the Illinois Junior College Conference. Vern Voss, defensive end; Bert Erickson, defensive middle guard; Jim Mackey, defensive line backer and offensive guard; Harold Scroggins, offensive half-back; Jim Quackenbush, offensive end.

Vern Voss carried away the most honors with his selection as the most valuable player by his team mates and his election as player of the year in the Illinois Junior College Conference. And the entire community share his pride in his being chosen for the first team Junior College ALL-AMERICAN.

The 1963-64 season began as a rather slow season and ended with fireworks. The Wolves rolled up a 21-9 record as they swept victoriously through the sectionals. "Fox" Wills' regular starters were Boyce, Scubic, Leve, Greenbeck, and Walling. Boyce broke the team scoring records and was top rebounder, followed by Walling. Boyce and Walling also paced the team in free throws. Armstrong, Boyce, Greenbeck, and Verdun will be the only returning cagers for next season.

JJC TIES FOR 1ST AT NATIONAL TOURNEY

WORTHINGTON, MINN., FEB. 29, 1964

The Joliet Junior College Wolves tied for first place with Northeastern (Sterling) Colorado Junior College in the National Junior College Wrestling Tournament. Before coming to Worthington, JJC Wolves had a successful season with a thirteen-win, no-loss record. In addition to Milt Thomas and Bob Furlan placing first in their weights in the nationals, the JJC matmen had other top winners. Marty Clegg at 123 pounds placed second, Jesse Edwards at 115 pounds placed third; and Vern Voss at 191 pounds also took a third.

TENNIS

This year's team has a big record to live up to. The 1963 team swept the Illinois Junior College Conference with ten wins and no losses. Dwight Toland took first in the singles in the conference; Bill Smilie and Dave Hicks placed second in the doubles.

For the second year in a row, the National Junior College Championship matches were held in Joliet. Owing largely to the careful planning of Mr. Herman Walser, Athletic Director of JJC, and to the diligence and energy of Coach Harold "Howie" Scheidt, the matches were a success that brought credit to JJC. Neither Mr. Walser nor Mr. Scheidt will be with JJC next year. After many years of dedicated service to the junior college and the high school, Mr. Walser has elected to assume duties as athletic director at the West Campus of Joliet Township High School. Mr. Walser's many years of effort have brought to our JC athletic program a vitality that is rivaled only by the excellence of its achievements.

Mr. Walser, right, congratulated Mr. Scheidt on his undefeated championship season.

GOLF

The high point for JJC's golf team of '63-'64 was the National Junior College Athletic Association Tennis Tournament held here at Joliet. Coached by Mr. Marshall Erickson, JJC's team came away with a fourth place in the national tournament, and Ron Peterson of JJC placed fourth in the individual scoring with 282.

In the fall JJC completed a six win-four loss season in the Illinois Junior College Conference. "Rick" Armstrong, a tournament medalist, came away with an impressive average score of seventy-four in the conference. Bob Agazzi crowned his second year of play with JJC by tying for third in the individual conference scores.

Agazzi tries for a hole in one.

Armstrong shoots for the green.

CHEERLEADERS

Stiff muscles, hoarse voices, and frozen noses are common ailments to the JJC cheerleaders. These six girls and Miss Elizabeth Revel, their sponsor, put in hours of extra time perfecting their routines. In addition, they attend all football and basketball games and all home wrestling matches, as well as special events throughout the year.

Student Council is the nucleus of Joliet Junior College. This council, our governing body, consists of ten in-district representatives, three out-of-district representatives, one representative from each club, and all class officers.

All business concerning dances, assemblies, elections, apportionment of budgets, recognition of new clubs, and other activity problems are discussed at the weekly Tuesday-morning meetings.

This year Student Council has been concerned with many things. Now that J.C. will not be so crowded with the two new high schools, planning for next year's available space has been taking place. The Space Committee has been planning for new lounge and smoker areas plus other rooms.

This year's Book Exchange has been successful enough for two scholarship awards to deserving students—each for two hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars.

The Leadership Conference this fall was followed in March with an Illinois Junior College Conference at Bloomington to investigate common problems and problem solving within the junior college.

Attempts are being made to organize Young Republicans and Young Democrats parties.

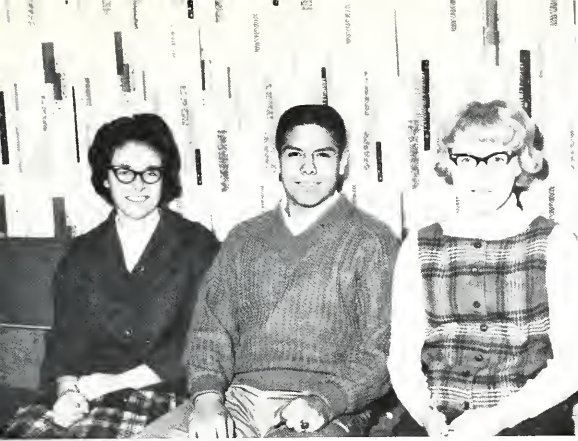

Towards the end of the year, a Constitutional Revision Committee will investigate the constitution for necessary changes—striving always for a more efficient and effective student governing body.

Mrs. Virginia Patmore, Press Club sponsor—"Press Club's Right Hand!"

Press Club is composed of members interested in the different phases of journalism. Those who participate come to have a deeper understanding of what goes on behind the scenes of writing newspaper copy, editing the finished yearbook, and writing in general.

The Press Club takes care of The Blazer, our monthly newspaper, (this year consisting of special issues only); the Casuals, our tri-weekly news sheet; the Shield, our yearbook.

In addition the club indulges in the usual amount of parties and fun frolics.

Besides providing students with experience in journalism, the club plays a very important role in the life of our junior college by being the means of communications.

Affiliated with the Illinois Education Association and the National Education Association, the Joliet Junior College Student Education Association is designed to advance interest in the profession of teaching and to promote the cause of education in general. Mrs. Grace Brewer, faculty adviser, guided the eighty-three S.E.A. members during the crest of their annual activity: Teacher Appreciation Day and American Education Week. During their monthly meetings, the members listened to speakers, watched films, and participated in panel discussions. But there was time for fun: the members attended hayrides, and their float won the most-beautiful prize in the homecoming parade.

Row one: Shirley Leuthner, Barb Larsen, Mary Ellen Zabala, Treasurer Judy Schempf, Sherrie Douglas, Phyllis Clark, Barb Benson, Secretary Judy Nuetzman, Susan Hensel, Linda Sandbloom, Renee Sherman, Linda Jones, Kathy McComb, Barb Booth, Andrea Almasy. Accompanists Sandy Anderson and Cheryl Eaton.

The Joliet Junior College Choir is a busy organization of fifty-five members. The students are a "Dedicated group," "people who are in music because they love it and not because they have to be." "They work and play together." Their annual activities consist of an annual tour composed of stage band, choir, selected soloists and a panel which tours surrounding schools — this year, Lockport Township, Lockport West, Plainfield, and J.T. juniors and seniors. Also there is a Junior Women's Club Christmas Concert. This year is their 15th anniversary. A Spring Musical is performed. Then, of course, there are the usual picnics and parties.

The Letterman's Club provides a beneficial service to JJC. This club keeps the scholastic and athletic standards of our athletes high. They provide awards to deserving athletes, and they promote athletics. The three most valuable player awards, a merit athletic award, and letter jackets to deserving athletes are given.

Left to right, behind car: Jim Wellmen, Roger Tracy, Jack Wicke, Chuck Morshall, Student Council Representative, Jerry Frattini, Phil Bjekich, Events Director, Lee Bettenhausen, Ron Smego, Milton Sheffield, Al Zanzola, Al Chesko. Front of car: V.P. Bill Piner, Pres. Mike Lenich, Sec. Ken King, Treas. Ray Friday. Not present: Rudy Yurkovich, Don Stefanich, Bob Daggett, Rick Momper, Jim Zenke.

The J.J.C. Motor Sports Club is composed of members interested in automobile events and other activities associated with sports cars and sports car clubs. The club's program consists of business meetings, movie programs, guest speakers, and rally and other speed events during the school term.

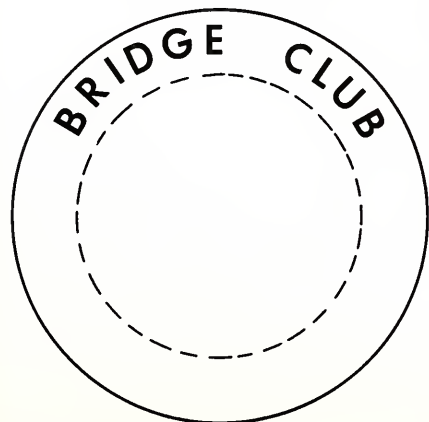

The JJC Engineer's Club consists of all those enrolled in an engineering curriculum. The purpose of this organization is to acquaint these students with the various phases of the engineering field in order to insure them of a steadier footing in their challenging future career. At each of the monthly meetings a qualified professional engineer from the area is invited to speak to the group.

The game of bridge stimulates the mind, and it is also a social asset. For this reason the Bridge Club was formed. The weekly meetings provide social contacts and a chance for a stimulating evening.

Merwyn Loy, Maryann Taylor, Larry Kachel, Pat Vogen, Bernie Kallai.

Seated: Diane Ball, Norma Kamen, Carol Leff, Sue Costa, Karen Gora. Standing: John Dolak, Larry Kachel, Jack Sheldon, Merwyn Loy.

President Merwyn Loy, Secretary-Treasurer Karen Gora, Vice-President John Dolak.

All forms of business, social and otherwise, are discussed by the members of the JJC Associated Business Club at their bi-monthly meetings. Under the sponsorship of Mr. John Corradetti, these students enrolled in business courses find a social as well as an academic outlet through the activities discussed and planned by the club. Skating parties and dances are among these.

Speakers, such as public accountants and managers of various businesses from the Joliet area, make the students aware of changes and advances which are taking place in the field today. Field trips to local corporations and smaller businesses are also arranged and geared to prepare the members of Business Club for their eventual entrance into this competitive field.

Merwyn Loy and Mrs. Corradetti

Sitting: Judy West, Janice Rauworth, Pat Vogen, Sue Raddatz, Jan Rasmussen.
Standing: Duane Andreasen, Dich Dow, Ron Oldan, Bernie Kallai, Bill Donovan.

Row two: Joy Wilson, Kathy McComb, Jerry Spreitzer, Mary Knapp, Carol Muren, Jack Vieceilli, Tony Matesi, David Hooper, Dwight Volling, Bob Koch, Chuch Marshall, Debbie

Vice President; Terry Wiseman, President; Donna Stewart, Secretary.

Mr. Puddicombe explains the College of Pharmacy display.

Students of Medical Science under the sponsorship and co-sponsorship of Edmund C. Puddicombe and Glenn Young are 125 strong this year in active membership. During the past sixteen years these "national pioneers" have established a program at Joliet Junior College through which several hundred students have gained thousands of hours in practical training and experience in their prospective medical fields. They have earned approximately one-third of a million dollars through part-time employment as surgical orderlies, student pharmacists, physical therapy assistants, junior medical technologists, autopsy assistants, blood bank workers, medical records librarians, X-ray assistants, emergency room orderlies, orthopedic assistants, and medical secretaries.

Incredible as it may seem, students of this organization have undertaken more than 100 trips in the Chicago area to professional schools, clinics, hospitals, and pharmaceutical manufacturers without missing a single class.

Physicians, dentists, pharmacists, nurses, morticians, and medical technologists, speak to the students at the weekly S.M.S. meetings. Clinical medical films are also viewed at these meetings.

A few S.M.S. members caught inside warming up at Donna Stewart's recreation room at Christmas Party.

S.M.S. visits first annual drug fair at Silver Cross Hospital.

Row one: Sharon Young, Aphrodite Ninos, Shirley Leuthner, Gayle Glasscock, Charlene Getson, Donna Peterson. Row two: Janet

Stephen, Karen Gora, Paula Allen, Don Dixon, Jim Pelton, Ray Carpenter, Larry Peet, Sponsor Mr. Daniel McCarter.

"Where else?"

Ray Carpenter, Sue Latosha, and Shirley Leuthner in "Winnie the Pooh."

More than 1,000 hours are spent accumulatively each year by the Junior College Players under the sponsorship of Daniel McCarter in the production of one three-act play and several one-act plays. Students interested in all phases of dramatics find an opportunity to learn more and to participate actively in some particular "stage" of the art. A general knowledge of make-up, costuming, direction, dramatics, scenery and lighting, coupled with a sense of responsibility, self-confidence, and success after the show goes on are the treasures awaiting all J.C. Players.

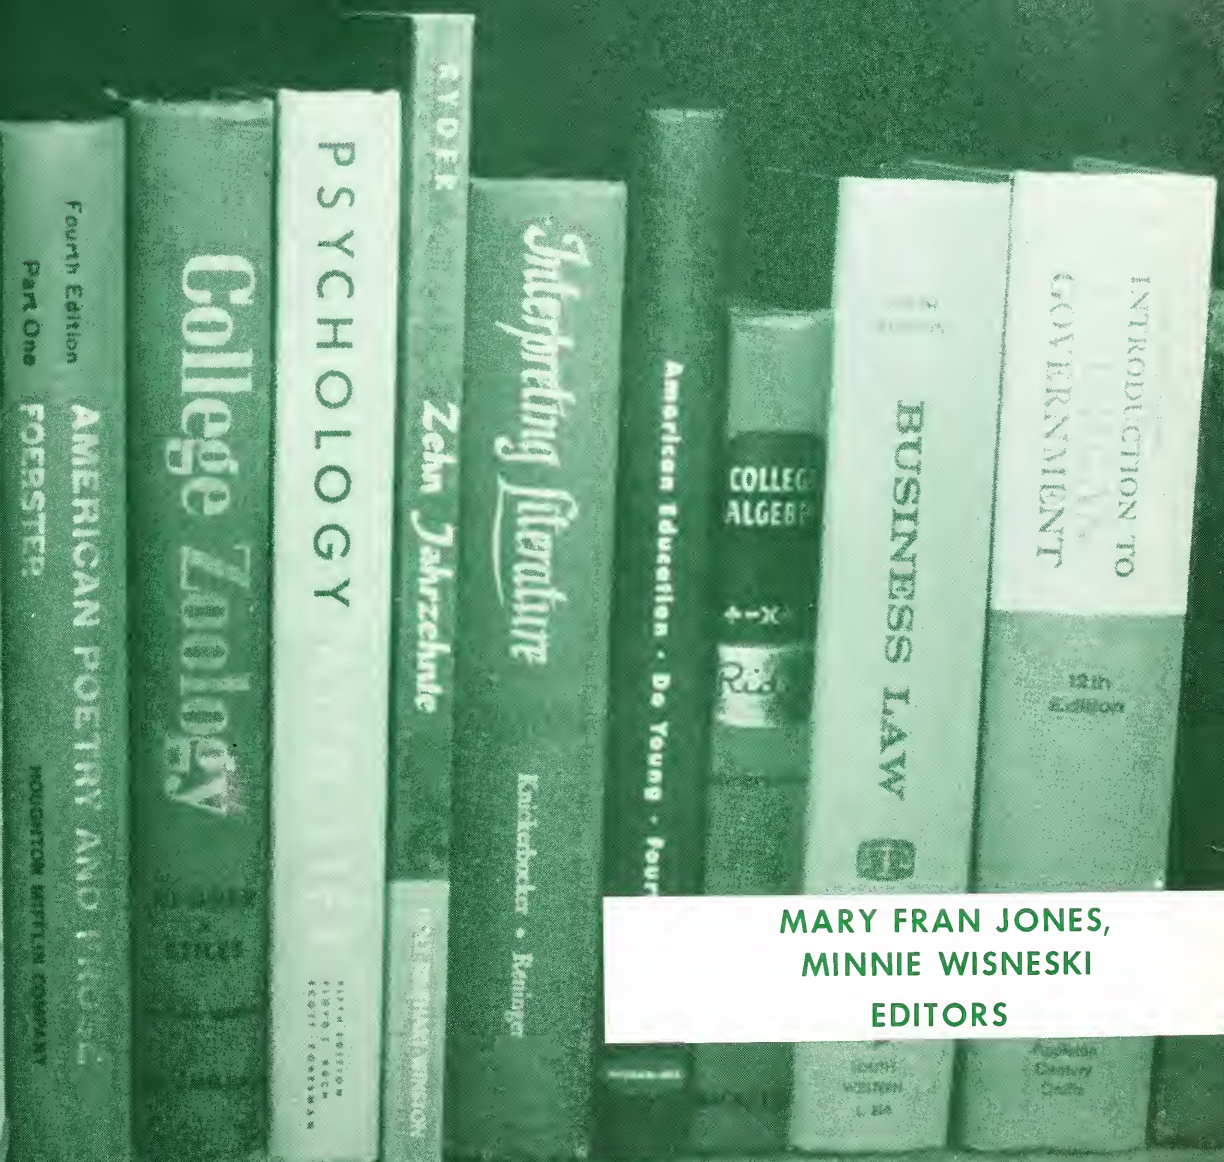

This year at Christmas time the Players practiced the spirit of giving in a very special way; they brought enjoyment to many children's groups in Joliet through the presentation of "Winnie the Pooh." As these students continue to give of themselves through their talent, J.J.C. students continue to watch and enjoy them with pride.

Left to right: Jan Fuhrman, Larry Peet, Judy Williams, Judy Nuetzmann, Ray Carpenter, being initiated into J.J.C.'s Alpha Psi Omega, an honorary dramatics fraternity.

A photograph of a row of books on a shelf, with a green overlay and the word "STUDENTS" in white. The books are of various colors and sizes, with some spines clearly visible. The green overlay is a semi-transparent rectangle that covers the middle portion of the image, and the word "STUDENTS" is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font within this rectangle. The books on the shelf include titles like "SOCIAL SCIENCE", "DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS", "ANATOMY", "EFFECTIVE", "BOTANY", "OREI KAMERMOEN", and "THE GROWTH OF THE AMERICAN REPUBLIC".

HOLIDAY FANCIES

Holiday entertainers—did the duchess leave early?

I wonder which ones contain the surprises?—Mr. Howard Johnson.

After the mystery and confusion of the registration line and the complications of the book exchange all students DETOUR to the picnic, while the auditorium remains forgotten and forlorn.

"A COMEDY OF ERRORS"

"Where's the ball?" calls referee Corradetti. "Can't have a basketball game without a basket."

"All right, everybody spread out and look for the ball."

For excitement during the semester break, the Press Club challenged the Business Club to a basketball game. The rules had to be slightly altered to allow the girls a fair chance. Press Club started out with "grand form," but unfortunately the Business Club came through in a "blaze of glory" to win the game by one basket, 17-15. Both referees Corradetti (Business Club) and Burke (Press Club) maintained complete "objectivity" throughout the game.

The game begins at a lively pace.

"Jump high, jump low, come on girls let's go!" Sue Costa for Business Club, and Lynn Spencer for Press Club are matched for a jump ball.

"You get it, Lynn." "No, you get it Tessie." Tessie Heubach and Lynn Spencer show the teamwork so typical of the Press Club team.

"Hey, Sue, hold on. Aren't you missing something? Shirley Leuthner has the ball. Besides that—the game's over."

SIGHTS UNSEEN

JOLIET TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS IN JOLIET JUNIOR COLLEGE

A number of seniors from Joliet Township High School take advantage of the proximity of the junior college by enrolling in one or more college courses during their final year in high school. Chemistry, algebra, rhetoric, and foreign languages are among the more popular courses with the seniors. The students find that these courses are often helpful in giving them a preview of college life before they enroll full-time at a university, as well as giving them a few hours credit ahead.

This year twenty-seven freshman nurses from Silver Cross Hospital are enrolled in special supplementary courses at Joliet Junior College. These subjects, including chemistry, microbiology, physiology, anatomy, and psychology, expand the nursing curriculum and offer the trainees some courses otherwise not available to them.
